

GIVEAWAY

Our wine of the month is an ideal winter warming red, 2006 Kirrihill Shiraz Mourvèdre Grenache from Clare Valley.

The wine is a combination of the three classic southern Rhône varieties which have traditionally been blended to produce soft, rich and flavoursome wines.

This is a harmonious union of Shiraz, Mourvèdre and Grenache which highlights the synergy of these three varieties. It has ripe blackberry and green pepper spice characters from the Shiraz and Mourvèdre with sweet cherry fruit and a textural richness from the Grenache. Kirrihill Wines is set in the rolling hills of Clare Valley with a cellar door overlooking the vines and countryside. AM has four packs of the 2006 Kirrihill Shiraz Mourvèdre Grenache to give away each containing three bottles and valued at $60.

MARKET FORCE

London has its Portobello Road markets, Sydney has Paddington and now Adelaide has its own vibrant fashion and design market.

Gilles St Market is held on the third Sunday of every month at Gilles Street Primary School in the city.

A colourful selection of stalls sells designer samples, young designers' fashions, clearance stock, pre-loved fashion, shoes, jewellery and accessories.

Market coordinator Jennifer Centenera (right) came up with the Gilles St concept when she moved back to Adelaide, after living interstate for a decade and working in marketing for high-profile brands such as Levi and Absolut Vodka.

"I'd seen the Sydney and Melbourne fashion markets and there wasn't anything in Adelaide to compare so I thought it would be brilliant to have something similar here," she says.

"We held the first market on March 16 with 48 stalls on a 40 degree day and had an amazing turn out and it's just been getting bigger ever since."

The Gilles St Market includes fashion from Lilly Pilly, Whistles, Mieu, Moca Bonita, Ve-Vo, Mint Vintage, Mai Loui, Frances Knight and Urban Safari.

The great vibe is enhanced with a DJ playing music and a range of coffee and food stalls.
